HAVE A SEAT

Aside from cosy poufs, a bench can be another useful piece to have in a glamorous bedroom. The Bridgette bench goes well with a vanity table; it can also be placed at the foot of a bed. Its sleek design makes it easy to match with modern furnishings, and it can be upholstered in fabrics with rich textures such as velvet.

SHOW AND TELL

Store your favourite perfume bottles and beauty must-haves on the Salsa display cart, which you can easily wheel around in your bedroom. Adds Boh: "This cart is small and tall, making it perfect for tight spaces; it also looks pretty and can be finished in silver or gold."

DRESS UP

A vanity table is among the defining pieces of a boudoir-influenced look. Boh recommends the Pearla dresser, which features a rounded form that gives it a more feminine touch. Pair it with a pouf in a matching upholstery fabric to complete the look. "The table top of the vanity and its matching pouf can be upholstered in leather or velvet to suit the owner's personality and style preferences," says Boh.

Create a boudoir-inspired bedroom with a stylish selection of furnishings from Snow Globe

Our bedrooms are our sanctuary; it's where we catch up on our beauty sleep after a long day at work. To craft a space that combines both style and function elegantly, take a cue from boudoir-style bedrooms.

"A boudoir is typically referred to as a lady's dressing room, so it is usually more elegant and tailored to feminine tastes," says Juliana Boh, founder of furniture retailer Snow Globe. "It would feature delicate textiles like velvet and lace, as well as other materials like leather and metal to create a synergy of femininity and masculinity."

Capture the romantic allure of this design scheme with the right mix of materials, and include a carpet underfoot. Boh adds: "Consider silk and satin fabrics for your sheets and cushion covers to create an opulent and sensual feel." Here, she recommends various furnishings that will complement this chic look.

MIRROR, MIRROR

"A boudoir is not complete without a mirror, and your choice of mirror can make or break the look," declares Boh. Whether you prefer a floral-inspired piece such as the Bliss mirror or a more modern design like the Mirano mirror, these elegant offerings will make delightful accent pieces in your bedroom.

STYLISH SPIN

Among the key pieces for a fashion-led bedroom is a plush seat. Boh counts the Lauren swivel armchair among her top picks. "It's a nice little armchair upholstered in luxurious velvet that is really comfy to read and relax in," she says. "The stitching on the back of the chair is inspired by the shape of a scallop shell, which gives it a vintage feel. What's more, it swivels 360 degrees, adding to its fun factor."
